War Cry" Brought Delightful Memories to Envoy Collier.

[We are pleased to publish this interesting letter from our veteran comrade. God bless him!—Ed.]

To the Editor, "War Cry":—What an interesting "Cry" to an old warrior is the one dated August and. There is the write-up of dear promoted Commissioner Raitton—by all who knew him—but here is also a lot of Canadian news I interest to me.

On Page 2 a reference is made to Sergeant-Major Peacock, of Regina, who was a Soldier in the Corps where I was stationed twenty-eight years ago. He is still fighting. And in the same place, to my Staff-Captain Peacock, who I knew as a Junior, who worked in my office at Headquarters, and was later my right hand—and a good one—in the newly-organized New Ontario Division of that time.

On Page 4, Adjutant Thomas A. Barton, whom I enrolled as a Soldier twenty-two years ago nearly, and who is still fighting in The Army, is mentioned.

On the same page, reference is made to Brother Dan Bolwer, who taught our second boy, Bandsman Stanley Collier, of Vancouver 1, to play an instrument. I was pleased to know he still plays for God.

Page 7 reports the re-opening of Orangeville. I fought there as a Lieutenant twenty-eight years ago this winter, and the picture of the main street looks very familiar indeed.

On Page 8 I see the name of Captain Wiggins, in whom Mrs. Collier and I took a great interest years ago. I think we had some things to do in helping her to become an Officer.

On the same page I note the promotion of Captain Nellie Gates. She suffered as a Corp Cadet from Kingston to New Liskeard when we first opened this Corps. She was a faithful Soldier.

Page 11 speaks of a "Chief of Police." God bless Brother Bowles, of Digby, whom I have known as a faithful fighting Salvationist—the real thing—for many years.

On the same page Adjutant Meeks is named. Nearly twenty-two years ago I conducted week-end meetings as Divisional Officer at Orangeville, Ontario, and among the seekers in the Holiness meeting was a boy named Tommy Meeks.

On the last page, under the heading Huntsville, Ontario, I see the name of Captain Crawford, who, I think, is another of the first Locals commissioned at New Liskeard, in New Ontario.

Myself? Oh yes. Kneel at the Salvation Army Tent—forty-two years ago, July 31st, and am still a Salvationist and doing what I can as a Soldier.

T. H. Collier, Envoy, Vancouver.

DO YOU HAVE FAMILY PRAYERS?

Experiences Wanted for "The War Cry."

Many "War Cry" readers must have helped those to relate concerning their own experiences of family worship, and we earnestly invite them to tell us how they have overcome the selfishness from their crowded lives, how it has helped them themselves, and what it has done for their children.

THE WORLD'S TRIBUTE.

[From among the great number of messages which General and Mrs. Bramwell Booth received from all parts of the world at the time of the death of The Army's Founder, we take the following extracts, which are both expressions of sympathy and tribute to the life and work of the Founder. Beyond those from royal personages, and work of the world's Leader. We have limited these chiefly to Canadian representatives, and we have included a few tributes from the many generous press references. —Ed.]

His Majesty King George:—The nation has lost a great organizer, and the poor a whole-hearted and sincere friend, who devoted his life to helping them in a practical way. Only in the future shall we realize the good wrought by him for his fellow-countrymen.

Her Majesty Queen Alexandra:—I beg you and your family to accept my deepest and most heartfelt sympathy in the irreparable loss you and the nation have sustained in the death of your great, good, and never-to-be-forgotten Father, a loss which will be felt throughout the whole civilized world. But, thank God, his work will live for ever.

H. R. H. Princess Louise:—Such a splendid man to be taken from his family is sorrow enough, but how his fellow-workers must feel the loss; and for whom The General has worked so hard and unceasingly will feel it keenly.

H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught:—Not only The Salvation Army, but the world at large, is the poorer, and the good he did to suffering and destitute humanity can never be forgotten. I pray that the work begun and brought to maturity by the late General Booth may be crowned with equal success under those to whom he has delegated his command.

Ex-President Taft, United States of America:—General Booth was one of the remarkable characters of the world. He had genius for the organization and for the uplifting of those usually regarded as lost in immorality and crime.

Hon. Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor, Ontario:—The state of universal sorrow and sympathy is a true eulogy to the merits of the departed General. I join in the general sympathy, and hope that The Army will go on with its work for the benefit and advantage of the community.

Hon. Douglas C. Cameron, Lieutenant-Governor, Manitoba:—General Booth was a good man and did noble work. The whole world will feel his loss, and Manitoba mourns for the director of that wonderful organization which is doing so much for humanity.

Hon. Sir Francois C. S. Langelier, Lieutenant-Governor, Quebec:—He has shown real genius in the conception of The Salvation Army, its conduct and administration, the good he has done to degraded humanity is incalculable.

Your leaders and your comrades are deeply indebted to you for all your devotion and faithful labour in the interests of "The War Cry." We know you find joy in the work, and that God rewards you. He will, we are sure, reward you more and more.

Before going away for your holiday, which we hope will be profitable,

Rt. Hon. Sir Edward P. Morris, Premier, Newfoundland:—The people of Newfoundland, many of whom were helped spiritually and materially by the great work of the Founder of The Army, join to-day in the universal sympathy in the great loss which The Salvation Army has met in his death.

Hon. Sir Jas. P. Whitney, Premier, Ontario:—I have always appreciated highly the work of The Salvation Army, and I have had ever since my acquaintance with him, the greatest admiration for General Booth's qualities. He was a wonderful organizer, and his record in the very important and noble work of the Salvation Army has been of far more than ordinary capacity.

Bishop Salvany, Toronto:—The Salvation Army has bulked large in the religious and social activities of the last quarter of a century. And however much we may differ from his principles and methods of working, yet all must agree that The Army in its brave and pioneering way has, under God, accomplished the reformation and rescue of countless thousands who will have reason to call its Founder blessed.

Rev. Dr. Carman, of the Methodist Church:—The life and labours, the personality and achievements of General Booth I regard as one of the modern miracles, the demonstration for this age of the perpetual presence and power of God in the religious forces that govern the world.

The Toronto Globe:—General Booth was the spoken apostrophe of kings and potentates by raising his fallen brothers; he was the means of restoring countless lives to decency and usefulness; he pulled hundreds of thousands of men from the gutter; he fought the good fight of faith, matching his own military statesmanship as he sharing a place with Savaonarola and Luther and Lincoln in the hall of eminence as an emancipator of his race.

The Toronto Mail and Empire:—General Booth was one of the great men of the nineteenth century. His career was a blessing to the human race. The Salvation Army has friends and champions in the foulest dens on earth, and no policeman's uniform is such a sure passport as is the red jersey or poke bonnet of The Salvation Army.

able and enjoyable, please be sure to see that complete arrangements are made with the Commanding Officer for some absolutely reliable comrade to do your round with the papers in your absence.

It would be most unfortunate, as you will see, if while you are away on holiday even one of your "War Cry" customers were to be disappointed;

DEATH, THE GATE OF LIFE.

DEATH DELIGHTFUL!
"Pass in!" He softly cried,
The General stirred,
Man said—"The General died!"
Man cried—"The General died!"
DEATH SALUTED!

GRACE ABOUNDING!
"Come in thou blessed one!"
The General rose,
The General gazed,
Man said—"His work is done!"
Heaven knows, 'tis but begun,
GRACE ABOUNDING!

LIFE ETERNAL!
God's spoken words, "Well done!"
The Crown, the Palm,
The Holy Calm,
Earth sighed—"He's gone!"
Heaven cried—"He's come!"
LIFE ETERNAL!

RIVERDALE BAND.

Visits Uxbridge for a Week-End Campaign.

The Riverdale Silver Band visited Uxbridge for a week-end campaign. A very large crowd assembled at the depot to greet the Bandsmen, including the Corps' Officers. The tap of the drum was the signal for the Band of forty-five pieces to send out such a volume of music that Uxbridge had not heard for at least a year.

On the beautifully shaded lawn at the rear of the Hall, Captain Sanford and Lieutenant Curtis had kindly provided for the Bandsmen's temporal needs; and the first meeting, the open-air, immediately followed.

Mr. P. P. Gould presided at the Saturday evening festival, "Soldiers of Christ," "My Keeper," "English Melodies," etc., were rendered by the Bandsman. A solo by the Male Choir and other items, were splendid. Adjutant Blos read "The Workingman's Song." The Staff-Captain read from God's word in the Holiness meeting, and Bandsman Martin led the Bandsmen in testimony.

The afternoon musical programme was presided over by Mayor Nicolls, who is a warm friend of The Army, and who commended their work. Many beautiful songs were sung by the Bandsmen played and sung. The Town Hall was packed at night, and the Band again took a prominent part. Some good food was served, and the evening was a most successful one. Bandsman Martin, Deputy-Bandsman Fuller, and Sergeant-Major Bradley.

Adjutant Blos read from God's word, and appealed to the women present. We believe much good will be the outcome of the visit.

ALASKAN PROGRESS.

The Indians of Alaska, as is generally known, are largely nomadic in the salmon countries, and Adjutant Smith tells us that 100,000 cases of red salmon were sent out of Northern Alaska last year.

Speakers of Alaska generally, the Adjutant says, new mines are being opened, including two big ones at Juneau, which town has so increased in size and importance that it has been a double-barrelled thing. I have loved every hair of his silver head, and I have wanted to touch his coat, to feel his hand rest on my shoulder. Before ever I saw him, when I read his "Orders and Regulations for Field Officers," admiration thrilled me for a mind which could foresee every contingency, and the thought of ever com-

Year's Work Proves "God Is With Us."

WELVE months ago the people were enquiring with curiosity, if not with anxiety, "Now that The General has gone, what is going to happen?" No Salvationist made such an enquiry; to their own people, General and Mrs. Bramwell Booth were well known, if not by personal contact, then by good report. Our friends, too, quite understood that, under Divine guidance, the leadership of The Army was still in safe hands. But there were others whose knowledge of the Organization began and ended with the concession that its Founder was a great good man; and his removal not unnaturally left them questioning.

They have now—August, 1912—the outcome of a year's work in answering their own question; and for their benefit we mention here some of the undertakings, campaigns, and victories that will make the last twelve months an outstanding period in the history of The Army.

To begin with, there was the remarkable reception everywhere accorded The General and Mrs. Bramwell Booth, both by their own Officers and Soldiers and by the great public—a reception whose cordiality could scarcely have been surpassed.

Then there are the results of their activities on the British Field. The General's week-end campaigns have been attended by just such crowds as we were accustomed previously to see; and the results in soul-winning have been similarly glorious.

The same thing must be said of ing close up to him never occurred to me—I was such a tiny unit in a great concern—just as I suppose one thinks of the King, who does not dream of shaking hands with him. An unexpected opportunity came when it was suggested that I should take an appointment for which I did not feel prepared. "Go and see the General about it," my superiors said, and feeling in my own mind that I had a case, I was not, as I might otherwise have been, afraid to face our Leader, who, of

"I shall walk through the valley of the shadow of death. I shall walk through the valley in peace."

Dear General, the words are true at last. I was touched to the heart, for I knew how absolutely The General and The Army Mother had been one.

I have never seen him, as his habit was, standing with his arms folded and his hands clasped, and his fingers turning his wedding-ring round and round, without wanting to comfort him. My affection for him has been a double-barrelled thing. I have loved every hair of his silver head, and I have wanted to touch his coat, to feel his hand rest on my shoulder. Before ever I saw him, when I read his "Orders and Regulations for Field Officers," admiration thrilled me for a mind which could foresee every contingency, and the thought of ever com-

Last visit of the late General to Toronto—Reception at City Hall.

For The General to announce that a party of one hundred Missionary Officers will be made up at once from these four countries: Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Finland.

The financial results of Self-Denial Week have in most Territories shown a substantial advance upon the returns of previous years, the British Field making the largest increase—about $50,000; and our own Territory one of over $4,000.

The number of acceptances for Officership is also a reliable thermometer. In Great Britain five hundred Cadets are now entering Training, and within the next few weeks it is expected that 100 young men and women will commence their training in Toronto.

But the remarkable activities of the British Field are, perhaps, more striking than anything we might name.

In the Seige of London—a week's effort—there were over 2,000 seekers, a great number of whom were subsequently enrolled as Salvation Soldiers.

Between forty and fifty Corps have recently been opened.

One hundred Officers have been sent to the Missionary Fields, India and the Far East; and

The Young Life Crusade, an undertaking for the benefit of the Young People, has been inaugurated with much promise of success.

These are facts that speak for themselves of health and progress and of the presence of God with The Army. To Him we give the glory.

all others, might fairly be expected to think I was shirking. But The General understood. I never forgot me. I think it is a special faculty of the Booth family to be able to place everyone they have once seen. In my journeyings with The General afterwards, when I was sent to report his meetings, he generally made a little time for me. Sometimes he would ask me to tea, and I would sit beside him and hand him the simple things, (Continued on Page 14.)

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

A Campaign on "The Island."

The St. John Divisional Headquarters Staff have just finished a successful campaign in Prince Edward Island, or as it is termed down this way, "The Island." What a delightful country, climate, and people! The home of thrifty farmers, fishermen, and—the black fox industry. The last-named must not be omitted, for many of these little animals are worth more than their weight in gold, and the amount of money invested in this business runs into the millions.

A splendid congregation greeted us at Charlottetown, where the audience received a surprise on entering the Hall, for the old benches had that day been replaced by a fine lot of new chairs. The improvement was heartily appreciated.

The work at this place is progressing splendidly under the leadership of Captain and Mrs. White. The following night was spent at Summerside, where there had been erected by our Alberton comrades, and meetings are being held three nights a week and twice on Sunday. What a treat it was to see the tent crowded with eager listeners and with many unable to find room inside, and the platform filled with happy, singing Soldiers and Converts! Deep conviction was manifested, and one soul volunteered for Christ. Ensign Hardy is leading on and prospects seem bright for an ingathering of souls.

The weekend was spent at Summerside. What a change! Last fall we were obliged to withdraw the Officers owing to condition of Hall and Quarters. The old building has been sold and another purchased on the main street, with a delightful pleasant Hall, seating about two hundred, and a cosy, comfortable Quarters, overlooking the beautiful harbour.

We heard many expressions of welcome on our arrival, and in a very practical way the people showed that they were glad to see The Army. Plag again unfurling, Rev. J. M. Rice (Methodist) and Rev. Dr. Thomas (Congregationalist) and Messrs. A. S. McKay and D. A. Pinkerton spoke on behalf of the church and business section of the community, and their words of appreciation, goodwill, and earnest appeal to the unconverted had in them the ring of true sincerity.

In addition to the Divisional Staff, the following Officers took part: Adjutant B. Green, Captain and Mrs. Squarebriggs, Captain Robinson, and Lieutenants Allen and Darbyshire, as well as Captain McKervey and Lieutenant Stevens, who are taking charge. We were glad to have Brothers Oliver and McKee from Alberton, with us for the weekend.

On Monday night, Mrs. Staff-Captain Coombs spoke on India with marked effect upon those present. Unfortunately the pouring rain interfered with the crowd.

CHINESE CONVERT.

Drunkard at the Drum-head, and Fifteen Other Seekers.

We are glad to be able to report an awakening of non-saving at Summerside. Last week we recorded our third Drum-head conversion, a man who had been drinking for two or three weeks, and during that time had spent nearly $500 and lost all he had. He sought and found pardon during the open-air meeting.

The Captain secured a position for him, and he has been to nearly every meeting since, being one of the first to give his testimony. In one meeting, he said, a whiskey bottle had that day been put right under his nose, with an invitation to drink, but by the grace of God he had refused it.

At another open-air meeting, a Chinaman had revealed to him by the power of the Holy Spirit his need of a Saviour. He came to the Hall, and to the Mercy Seat, his face wet with tears. We could not understand his language, so we sent for an interpreter, who told us that the man wanted God—wanted to be good, and to come with The Army. On the Sunday he was at our three open-air, and all the indoor meetings, and caused quite a sensation in the town and among the two or three hundred Chinamen here, by marching along the streets with us.

Among the seekers during the week were three ex-Salvationists. Altogether we have had seventeen souls—good attendances and record offerings—Hallelujah! At our Sunday morning open-air meeting, our Soldiers and Recruits represented six nationalities, namely, English, Canadian, Dutch, Swedish, Chinese, and German.

CHATHAM'S NEW HALL.

Fuller Report of the Opening Week-end Campaign.

The new Hall of The Salvation Army here (says the Chatham, N. B., Tri-Weekly Gazette) has been opened with a series of services conducted by Major and Mrs. Taylor, assisted by Staff-Captain and Mrs. Coombs and other visiting Officers. The services began on Saturday night and were continued on Sunday, and on Monday evening a lecture on India was given by Mrs. Coombs, who has spent a number of years in that interesting land.

At the Sunday afternoon service the speakers included Rev. J. M. McLean, Rev. Geo. Wood, and Mr. W. S. Lorgie, M.P. The reverend gentlemen expressed their own and their congregations' pleasure in welcoming The Army to their fine new quarters, and Mr. Lorgie gave an interesting address mainly on rem-iniscences connected with the earlier days of the building. Major Taylor and Staff-Captain Coombs also spoke, and Mrs. Taylor delighted those present with a solo.

Major Taylor says The Army workers are much encouraged over having got their new Hall ready and while they had a considerable burden to carry in connection with it, they are hopeful of getting this paid off in time.

In our next issue we hope to publish some pictures of the newly-acquired Hall.—Ed.]

LONDON I. BAND.

Campaign at Stratford, Under the Direction of Major Morris.

The week-end in Stratford was one of unusual interest to the Corps, writes Secretary Jas. Fletcher, the occasion being the visit of Major Morris and the London I. Band. When they arrived they marched to the City Hall to the strains of "The Flowing River," and were there met by His Worship Mayor Greenwood, who extended to them a hearty welcome and the freedom of the city. Major Morris, on behalf of the Band replied. After lunch, which was prepared by Adjutant Cawender, the visitors pitched right in to make the most of their campaign.

A musical programme was rendered at night, which was enjoyed by all who heard it.

On Sunday, Major Morris took charge of all meetings. The inspiring open-air was divided, each band having its stand and then uniting for the march to the Citadel. The united bands rendered the musical part of the Holiness meeting.

At this meeting, Secretary and Mrs. Fletcher gave their little baby to The Salvation Army under the Colours, the Flag being held by London's veteran Colonel Sergeant, who although over eighty years of age, rarely misses his duty with the flag. God bless him!

The afternoon was given up to music rendered by the visitors, who showed that they have some singing talent as well as instrumental.

NORTH-WEST DIVISION.

Notes by the Chancellor.

The annual Salvation Army singing was held on Wednesday (July 24th) at the Wesleyan Church for the day. The weather was ideal, and from all accounts, the day was one of the most successful and enjoyable.

Major and Mrs. McLean and the Officers from the city and surrounding Corps were present. The Citadel Band was "Johnny on the spot," their music in the band stand being much appreciated. The choir filled an important part during the day, and the Officers and Team responsible are to be congratulated.

Spent Sunday at St. James. The Corps is doing very well under the direction of Captain Marshall and Lieutenant Norman. The Captain reports the best season for the year. Seventeen Bandmen were sent for open-air on Sunday morning, and they toiled faithfully in the meetings throughout the day.

Captain Rogers, who has been farjouring in Winnipeg and his brother, spent the week-end at No. III. The Captain leaves Winnipeg for the Old Land this week, God bless him!

During the absence of Ensigns Mr. Mettett, on furlough, from Winnipeg I. Adjutant and Mrs. Bristow and Adjutant and Mrs. Carter each did a week-end.

The meetings were highly appreciated. Adjutant and Mrs. Carter also spent a recent week-end at No. II. The Officers of the other departments stationed in the city are always ready, when duties permit, to special at the city and surrounding Corps.

Adjutant and Mrs. Bristow spent a week-end at Oxborn, the second Sunday of the Corps was spent in the love with the "Baby." The Adjutant says the people were anxious to hear their songs and adoration, and he feels sure that the future for The Army in Yorkton is great.

Ensign Jim Miller, of Calgary, has been spending a few days at Swift Current, another opening. Captain Jones writes enthusiastically of his visit, and says his meetings will result in much good. The Captain reports several conversions, one being a man who called at the Quarters and sought salvation. Our comrades have not yet got a permanent Hall, but the Captain's willingness to persevere of their early Scot, Donald Johnson, the Lieutenant.

Building operations at Regina are forging ahead. One hundred everything was in a turmoil. Excavators were busy, while another staff of men was piling up the bricks and stones, and altogether it was a big scene.

Staff-Captain Sims spent a week-end at North Battleford recently, yet another opening. Our prospects are promising. Adjutant Sheppard and Captain McLeana are not the comrades to let the grass grow under their feet.

The Divisional Commander received a personal letter recently looking out for the announcement of a wedding in the near future!

The Winnipeg I. Corps Band received a warm welcome to the home town. It was a treat to have them on their tour, which was a success from beginning to end. They are a credit to The Army, and certainly a promising lot of boys. God bless them!

News is just to hand that Major Soper and Captain Arnold have

THE WAR CRY.

What I Might Have Done.

THE LATE GENERAL'S LAST PUBLIC ADDRESS DELIVERED IN THE ROYAL ALBERT HALL ON THE CELEBRATION OF HIS LAST BIRTHDAY ON EARTH.

My approach of my eighty-fourth year naturally led me to ask myself the question whether I was spending the years, which were so rapidly flying away, in such a manner as to give me the most satisfaction when I review them on such occasions as the present. The most satisfaction on review when the last night comes, as come it must, the most satisfaction when I have to review them in the presence of my Judge, and the most satisfaction on review during the eternity that lies before me. After due reflection on this important inquiry, I came to the conclusion that for me there was no better way.

There were certainly many other objects to which I might have devoted my life, examples of which were abundant in every direction, and temptations to which in some form or other have followed me all through my career.

For instance:—

1. I might have spent my life in the pursuit of pleasure—the gratification of the present hour.

2. I might have spent my life in the pursuit of wealth.

3. I might have spent my life in the pursuit of fame, or in the search of some other selfish end.

But these ways are utterly opposed to my notion of the Christian life.

That life presented itself to me on the day I was converted as a life of sacrifice for the benefit of the sinning, suffering people about me. The view appeared to me as the very essence of Christianity. I admired it; I approved it; I accepted it; and so far as I understood it, I gave myself up to it body and soul without reserve right up to this day to fulfil that consecration.

Now I want to go further, and to ask if there is any other way by which I could have more effectively fulfilled this consecration than the one I have been led to adopt.

Let us inquire. Well—

I might have devoted myself exclusively to some particular temporal reform.

I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the Housing of the Poor.

There are few questions more closely associated with health, morality, happiness, or religion than that.

I honour those who are devoting themselves to the solution of the problem.

I can never forget the interest His Majesty King George has manifested in the subject.

But what has The Army done something in this direction?

I wonder how many thousands of people there are living in comfortable homes to-day as the result of Salvation Army operations, and I wonder how many poor wretches—men, women, and children—there are who, but for our Shelters, would have no home at all.

For instance, there are something like twenty thousand people sleeping under our roofs throughout the world every week, and we have just begun searching the streets for the runaway boys. During the first fifteen months our Prayer Topics.

1. Pray that soldiers, as well as physical, blessing may attend the Field Work.

2. Pray for the Newfoundland Campaign.

3. Pray for the dear comrades who are commencing their work in the loneliness and mystery of a foreign field.

4. Pray for the Queen's Verdict.

5. Pray for the Human Tool.

Boys Home in London was opened 720 boys passed through, only 113 of whom proved to be unsatisfactory.

2. I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the improvement of the material conditions of the Working Classes.

There is need for some improvement in this direction. There are said to be a million men in London alone with an income of 20s. and under per week, the majority with families dependent upon them for support.

Now the betterment of these poor people is a most desirable end, and I honour the men who are engaged in the practical solution of the problem.

But have we not done something in this direction?

I suppose there are hundreds of thousands of people who are better off as regards this world's goods than they were before they came under the influence of The Salvation Army, and there are hundreds of thousands more who, if they have not had a larger income, have done better for themselves with the income they have had.

If we could calculate the amount that has been saved by abstinence from such useless indulgences as strong drink, gambling, tobacco, finery, and other things through the efforts of The Salvation Army, what a vast amount would be found to have been saved by this class of people!

3. I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the promotion of Temperance Reform.

Drunkenness seems to me to be the curse of every civilized country under the sun. It is the evil we are fighting, the evil we have sympathy, especially if they are doing it in a practical manner.

But have we not done something in this direction?

Every Salvationist the world over is an abstainer from intoxicants, while multitudes of children are treading in their steps.

Thousands and tens of thousands of the most wretched drunkards the world has ever known have been reclaimed.

People look on the cases described in "Broken Earthenware" as remarkable, but there is scarcely a Corps in the Kingdom that could not produce similar instances of reclamation.

We visit 15,000 public-houses every week.

4. I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the Physical Improvement of the People.

We might have gone into the medical line. We might have opportunity, the members of that profession possess for promoting the general well-being of the people, and how generously many of them discharge it!

But have we not done something in this direction?

We have twenty-four Hospitals, large and small, up and down the world, and deal with thousands of patients every year.

5. I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the Advancement of Education.

This is important, especially if you teach the young people to earn their daily bread.

But have we not done something in this direction?

I think of the numbers in our ranks to-day who would never have known how to read, how to write, how for the teaching and influence of The Salvation Army.

6. I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the interests of the Criminal World.

I admire any man or woman who in a practical manner toils for the occupants of the prison cell.

But have we not done something in this direction?

One hundred and seventy-eight women prisoners were taken over by The Salvation Army in Great Britain during last year, of whom 130 proved satisfactory.

Sir John Hewitt, the late Lieut.-Governor of the largest Province in India, recently said in recognition of the work among the criminal population of his Province, that The Salvation Army had done more in two years than the Government, with all the forces of law and order at its disposal, had been able to do in twenty-five.

7. I might have chosen as the object of my life's work the benefit of the race by labouring in the Political World.

This is most important. Laws have a great deal to do with the welfare of the people, and those who are toiling for wise and humane legislation have my heartiest sympathy.

But, while not taking open part in politics, The Army has done something that has led to legislation profitable to the people.

Now it seemed to me that the object to which I consecrated myself, all those years ago, contained in its heart the remedy for every form of misery and sin and wrong to be found upon this earth. Wherever wretchedness exists, its tendrils involuntarily went out with the remedy.

That object came by degrees to rule my heart. It fashioned my life and entered into the very soul of the Movement that was growing up under my care.

This object, which seeks to bring men into relations with God and right conditions in themselves, not only brings to them spiritual blessings of infinite value and everlasting duration, but favours the supply of every temporal blessing they need, whether it be for themselves, their families, or the wide, wide world in which they live.

What I sometimes call the Triangle of Religion has led to it all.

We say to men and women—high and low, rich and poor:—

1. Get right with God.

2. Get right in your own heart and life, and—

3. Get right in the relations in which you stand to your neighbour. That is, you must "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you." If you will let Him, God will do it all.

This is the shortest, surest, and readiest road—indeed, the only road—out of the starvation vice, and misery which abound in this poor world of ours.

It is the subject of "The Sufficiency of God," said that if God is sufficient, then He is a sufficient motive in the missionary enterprise, and the simple thought of God should be all the missionary inspiration which those interested in His work should require.

"Only God is wise enough to find a solution of the problems of the missionary. How to fuse the many races of mankind, and to weld into one the restless hearts of humanity."

THOUGHTS FOR THE SUMMER PORCH.

(Arranged by Mrs. Blanche Johnston.)

Dr. Robert E. Speer, speaking re-

Road thronged for hours; The General addresses crowds. There were 200 seekers during the day.

Monday, September 14.—Get to press "The War Cry" reporting the Funeral and Memorial services.

Last fortnight been a time of stress to us all, but we have had the great work in hand, and are thankful to know that our efforts are valued. Writing to the Editor-in-Chief, The General has said: "I will just tell you people how pleased I have been with the last two or three numbers of 'The War Cry'." Considering the great pressure upon them and the immense mass of material to be dealt with, I think the result achieved is very creditable indeed, and I believe that these numbers of 'The War Cry' are treasured for many years to come in many parts of the world as a worthy record of a very wonderful time.

So the momentous event we have anxiously looked forward to has come and gone. "The General has laid down his sword. God is with us."—H. W. W.

SPECIALS AT ST. JOHN'S I.

A Good Record of Soul-Saving.

During the last few weeks quite a number of Specials have visited us. Among the recent visitors were Captain and Mrs. G. Best, who conducted a Sunday night meeting. Both were formerly Soldiers of No. 1, and their old comrades gave them an enthusiastic welcome. Seven souls knelt at the Mercy Seat.

The next Sunday night, Adjutant M. Jaynes, of Glace Bay, paid us a visit, and it goes without saying all were delighted to see her. Five souls came to the Cross.

On July 28th, Adjutant Brace, of Bonaville, conducted the Holiness meeting. And at night, Captain and Mrs. Fullerton, of the Leinster, Stratford read the lesson. Three souls came forward.

On Tuesday night, Rev. Dr. Lemon, of New York, paid us a surprise visit, and spoke, directing his remarks particularly to the Young People, of whom nearly three hundred were present. Brother Kelly, of Cape Breton, also took part in the meeting. One soul volunteered to the Cross.

On Friday night, we had Dr. Lemon again. The Doctor, who is a warm friend of The Army, paid a glowing tribute to the lives and work of our late General and our Army Mother. Three souls came to the Mercy Seat.

PORTRAITS FOR THE "CRY."

Correspondents will help the Editorial Staff, if, in sending portraits for publication in "The War Cry" or "Young Soldier," they will do their utmost to secure photographs taken in Army uniform. Groups should be arranged with the comrades in them placed as close together as possible.

Regina, Sask.

Our week-end meetings, August 2nd and 3rd, were conducted by Frisken and Mrs. Weir, writes Correspondent Corbin. On Sunday afternoon, the Band, after holding their open-air, went to the General Hospital and played to the inmates, which was much appreciated. At night, Sister Mrs. Timmer read the lesson. Brother P. L. Morgan farewell. We are sorry to lose him as he was one of the Prison Workers. At the close of a hard day's fighting we had four souls for salvation. On Wednesday, the wedding of Brother Daggly and Sister Strathearn took place.

FIELD DESPATCHES.

Yarmouth, N. S.

Our Young People's Anniversary, under the direction of Junior Sergeant-Major Kirk, assisted by the Young People's Workers, was held on August 2nd and 3rd. It was a splendid success, the Juniors carrying out an interesting programme. On Saturday night a service of song, entitled "Miser's Sacrifice," was conducted, and on Sunday afternoon the Juniors marched to the Post-Office corner, where a bright open-air was held, after which they took the afternoon service, which consisted of singing, recitations, and exercises. One exercise, entitled "The Floral Cross," was exceptionally impressive.

The Primary Class, in charge of Sister Laura Harding, was also on the platform with a sad story and reviewed previous Sunday School lessons in a creditable way. As this was the first public demonstration of this method of instructing the little ones much interest was manifested, and much favourable commendation was heard from those present.

On Sunday night a Salvation meeting was led by the Junior Sergeant-Major in which the presence of God was felt, and one soul sought pardon.

Our regular meetings are having a good attendance and much interest is shown. Captain and Mrs. Hamlin are leading, and have already won a place in the hearts of the people.

Sydney, C. B.

Adjutant Byers, from Halifax, N. S., was with us on July 31st, writes Candidate Fraser, and at the close of the meeting two souls found Christ. On July 15th we welcomed Cadet Farmer to assist Captain and Mrs. Fullerton. The Band is progressing under the leadership of Captain Fullerton. Three of the Juniors are playing well in the Band. On August 3rd, at the close of the meeting, three souls came to God.

Newmarket, Ont.

On a recent Wednesday night the Captain was stopped in the street by a man, who said he wanted to get right with God. This man came to the meeting the following night, and sought salvation. He was a backslider.

Shelburne, N. S.

We had with us for the week-end, August 2nd and 3rd, Major Barr, our Divisional Commander. On Saturday night, he gave a lecture entitled, "Hard Cases and how they were won." We all enjoyed this very much, and the meeting was well attended. The Major's addresses on Sunday were the means of much blessing to us all. He spoke on "Three Shutters" in the morning and "Three Gates" in the afternoon, and "Three Words" at night. All the meetings were well attended. We finished up on Sunday night with three souls, two for salvation, and one for consecration. We have just had our Hall redecorated, and it looks very attractive, neat, and clean.

Orangeville, Ont.

We had with us for the week-end, August 2nd and 3rd, Ensign Brooks, from West Toronto. The Ensign's talks were much appreciated by the people. As we left the Hall at night we overtook a man who had attended the meeting, and as we walked along we noticed he was under deep conviction. The Ensign had a talk with him, and as a result, he came to the Quarters for prayer, and gave his heart to God.

Orangeville, Ont.

On Saturday and Sunday, August 2nd and 3rd, we had with us Sergeant-Major Luxton, from West Toronto, an old-time Blood and Fire Salvationist, writes Lieutenant Luxton. The train he came on was two hours late, nevertheless he held two open-air, finishing up after ten o'clock. Crowds of people were on the streets. On Sunday afternoon, Sergeant-Major Luxton gave a few leaves from his diary before conversation. One lady in the meeting said she had never felt so taken hold of for years.

At night, Captain Chapman took the lesson, "Behold I stand at the door and knock."

For the week-end August 2nd and 3rd, God gave us one soul, at St. Mary's, Ont. The meetings all were led by Captain Gerow and Lieutenant Prout.

Sudbury.

Later.—We are glad to report two more seekers this week, one of whom was converted at the Divisional meeting, making our fourth open-air. The other was a man who came outside while the meeting was standing. He listened to the quarters, where he and the Captain had a long talk. Eventually he cried out to God to save him.

On Sunday we had our first open-air, conducted by Captain Luxton. Four good recruits were secured in this first open-air. These being in uniform, we had commissioned our first 1000 officer. We have now eight soldiers and five recruits who are coming along well. On Sunday night we marched ten recruits through the town.

Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Ensign and Mrs. Taylor were this Corps recently and a welcome tea was held for them, writes P. E. I. Ensign. All present were in English and his wife a happy wife. We were reinforced on the following night by Major and Mrs. Taylor, Staff-Captain and Mrs. Coombs, and Captain and Mrs. Squarrells. A splendid meeting was held, which was largely attended.

Captain and Mrs. White, our leaders, deserve great credit for their energy, and sympathy, and the meetings are well attended. Salvation meetings for the Juniors are being held. Major Dr. Frisken and Adjutant and Mrs. Squarrells were recent visitors.

Ingersoll, Ont.

Band Sunday was on July 27th, writes Corps Correspondent Mrs. Paul. It was a good day. Captain and Mrs. Nicholls are holding quite a home. The week-end meetings were conducted wholly by the Songster Brigade, which makes now about twelve members.

In the afternoon the Band of Songsters held separate open-air.

St. Catharines, Ont.

We had with us on Sunday Mrs. Miller, and the meetings were well attended. The week-end meetings were held, and at the close of the evening service four souls sought salvation. Altogether the Major's visit was much enjoyed.

MRS. COMR. RAILTON.

Thanks for Canada's Symphonic. The Commissioner's absence, the Chief Secretary on receipt of news of Commissioner Railton's death, asked International Headquarters to convey to dear Mrs. Railton an expression of the deep sympathy felt for her by Canadian comrades.

Graciously acknowledging this message, Mrs. Railton writes:—"My dear husband's thoughts were full of the possibility that he might come to you next Winter, and somehow, I cannot think that, here he now is, he will be forgotten of the Canadian War, or indeed, of any of us."

"It is a very hard time here, and you may understand that our hearts are full of sorrow; but there has been great blessing and comfort through it all."

Welcomed Home.

The Commissioner WITH HEADQUARTERS' STAFF—CHIEF SECRETARY PRESIDES.

In a happy social gathering of Headquarters' Staff on the Wednesday evening following his arrival in Toronto, the Commissioner was affectionately welcomed home from the Old Land. Mrs. Rees shared the joys of the occasion, the Chief Secretary directing the proceedings.

"We have arranged this gathering," said the Colonel at the outset, "because of our joy at the Commissioner's home-coming. We want him to know how we have been getting on in his absence—that we have tried to do our duty conscientiously, that though we should have done better with him we have not done ill without him, and that things have worked pleasantly and harmoniously. I am most grateful for the loyal co-operation of one and all."

There was time only for a few representative speakers, and the Chief Secretary called first upon Colonel Gaskin, who spoke under heavy pressure of delight. He was glad the Commissioner was home, and wished for his return, and the necessary detention at home of Mrs. Maidment. He then, in an intimate, conversational address, de-

Mrs. Staff-Captain McAmmond gave expression to the general feeling, when she said we were grateful that our prayers for the Commissioner had been answered, and when she addressed a word of sympathy to Mrs. Rees.

And Lieutenant-Chandler rejoiced that God had been so good to the Commissioner. We had been concerned for him on his departure, we were delighted to see such an improvement. "We may have got along fairly well without you, sir, but we're mighty glad to see you home again."

The Commissioner touched all hearts by his prayer of thanks to God—thanks for many mercies that had come to him and his during his absence, and thanks for the faithfulness of his comrades, in whom he trusted.

To the Chief Secretary, the Commissioner afterwards expressed his gratitude for his devotion to the war, especially in view of the pressure of his duties, and the necessary detention at home of Mrs. Maidment. He then, in an intimate, conversational address, de-Territorial Headquarters.

Had the late General accepted the earnest offers of the dignitaries of the Church of England to merge the work of the Church and we know that whatever might have been the result, the history of The Army for the last thirty years would have read for a different page, which is none the less, and the whole world may devoutly thank God that far-seeing wisdom was given to The General when such offers, put forth, of course with the best of motives, had to be refused.

One of those efforts was made in the year 1882, and Dr. Benson, then Bishop of Truro, and later Archbishop of Canterbury, attended with his son an Officers' meeting, and afterwards, placing his arms around the neck of Mr. Bramwell Booth, in a private room, said: "Oh, my brother, you have the Spirit of God, I have never felt the Lord nearer than amongst you to-day."

One of our first memories of "The War Cry" is of the illustrated reports of the late General's first visit to Dominion in the fall of 1886. We see the pictures again as we write: The General speaking from the platform of a railway car, and thick crowds of people looking far away all round till they disappeared in the darkness of the night.

Canada was the first Territory, outside of Europe, to be visited by our late beloved Leader, and there is no doubt that the present plan for General Bramwell Booth to commence his worldwide journeyings in the same order, give added interest to his coming visit to the Dominion, both on his part and ours.

We first heard The General on a Good Friday at the opening of a fine new Citadel in the Kentish town of Ramsgate (Eng.), where an Officer and his wife, who, by the way, had been service in Canada, and had only recently returned to the Old Country, were in charge. Major Albery was unfortunately then already in delicate health. We well remember that in that stirring meeting The General told with tremendous effect the story of the conversion of a dog-fancier who, in seeking salvation, brought his dog with him to the Penitent-forn.

Two or three days afterwards we left home on Army service, and one memorable Sunday in Bristol, a year or so later, a trembling Lieutenant was called back from his "special work" to take some urgent dictation from The General, who had broken a long journey there for a few hours.

But we need have had no fear; for The General quickly put us at ease by enquiring where we came from, and talking of "that great meeting at Ramsgate." The General had a wonderful way of encouraging young beginners.

One of the letters we took at his dictation that day was an announcement to take some urgent dictation from The General, who had broken a long journey there for a few hours.

Alney Park Cemetery, which contains the graves of the late General and Mrs. Booth and those of many Army Officers, is named after Sir Thomas Alney, whose park Bramwell Booth visited in 1886.

from the Old Country. We wish them much success in the Land of the Maple Leaf.

The writer visited Simeon and was glad to find good Junior work in progress. Two girls offered themselves as Corps Cadets. We are sure that under Capt. Bert Pomeroy good reports will be coming in from this place. A small Band has been started.

Adjutant Sheard visited Dundas on a recent Sunday, and to use his own words, it was "the best Sunday I ever had." Ensign Layman, of the "Subscribers" Department, was there on August 3rd.

Many expressions of regret at the death of Commissioner Railton have been heard in the Division. "We are glad to report that the Lieutenants, who came to the Division last June, have, after two months'—our proved themselves in health to the test. They are doing good work in their respective towns."

for our sake. "Headquarters," he said, "is not the same place when you are away. We miss the quick step in the corridors, the smiling face, the hearty hand-shake, and the kindly 'Good bless you'."

Brigadier Turner suggested that just as the best exposition of the Bible is a good Christian, so with the Salvation Army's policies and systems, which are sometimes misunderstood. "When our people look at you, Commissioner, when they are brought into touch with your Christ-like character and in the evening service four souls sought salvation. Altogether the Major's visit was much enjoyed."

Lieut.-Colonel Turner also spoke of the value of the Commissioner's example on the Canadian field, expressed the earnest hope that the evident improvement in health would be permanent, and gave an assurance that he would personally do his utmost to help the Commissioner conserve his strength.

seribed some of his experiences since leaving the service, of necessity some of the ground over which we travelled in last week's interview. He brought cordial greetings from The General and Mrs. Booth, as well as from the Chief of the Staff; he spoke of the keenness with which The General was anticipating his visit to the Dominion, and the progress on the British Field, an evidence of which was that five hundred Cadets were now entering Training at Clapton, of the scene attending the funeral of the late Commissioner Railton, and, finally of the supreme necessity of holy-living Salvationists. The Army has noble persons, and we are glad to see that the Commissioner and Soldiers personally retain that priceless blessing of purity, he said.

In this gathering also Major and Mrs. McClennan were warmly welcomed to Headquarters, from London, Ontario, and Brigadier Arthur Rowe, of London, England, was given a comradely greeting.

Songs By The Late General.

Tunes.—My Jesus I love Thee, 185;
Song Book, 172.
O boundless Salvation! Deep ocean of love,
O fullness of mercy Christ brought from above!
The whole world redeeming, so rich and so free,
Now flowing for all men—come, roll over me!
My sins they are many, their stains are so deep,
And bitter the tears of remorse that I weep;
But useless is weeping, thou great crimson sea,
Thy waters can cleanse me, come, roll over me!

The tide is now flowing, I'm touching the wave.
I hear the loud call of "The Mighty to Save";
My faith's growing bolder, delivered I'll be—
I plunge 'neath the waters, they roll over me!

Tunes.—Helmstedt, 167: Take salvation, 170.
3 Love divine, from Jesus flowing.
Living waters, rich and free,
Wondrous love, without a limit,
Flowing from eternity:
Boundless ocean,
I would cast myself on Thee!

Love that pardons past transgression,
Love that cleanses every stain,
Love that fills to overflowing,
Yet invites to drink again,
Precious fountain!
Which to open, Christ was slain,
From my soul break every fetter,
Thee to know is all my cry;
Saviour, I am Thine for ever,
Thine I'll live, and Thine I'll die,
Only asking
More and more of love's supply.

Tunes.—Sovereignty, 119; Stella, 120; Song Book, 412.
2 O Christ, of pure and perfect love,
Look on this sin-stained heart of mine!
I thirst Thy cleansing grace to prove!
I want my life to be like Thine,
Oh, see me at Thy footstool bow,
And come and sanctify me now!
What is it keeps me out of all
The love, and faith, and fire I need!
Oh, drive Thy foes from out my soul,
What'er it cost, how'er I bleed!
No sin-cursed thing shall I allow,
If Thou wilt sanctify me now.

Oh, pour on me the cleansing flood,
Nor let Thy side be cleft in vain,
'Tis done! I feel the precious Blood
Does purge and keep from every stain;
To all the world I dare avow,
That Jesus sanctifies me now.

Tune.—Wonder-working power, 4.
Would you be free from your burden of sin?
There's power in the Blood,
power in the Blood!
Would you o'er evil a victory win?
There's wonderful power in the Blood.
Would you be free from your passion and pride?
There's power in the Blood,
power in the Blood!
Come for a cleansing to Calvary's tide,
There's wonderful power in the Blood.
Would you be whiter, much whiter than snow?
There's power in the Blood,
power in the Blood!
Sin-stains are lost in its life-giving flow;
There's wonderful power in the Blood!

Winnipeg Boys' TOUR

Major McLean Leads Way
The tour of the Winnipeg Boys' Band had been in the conversation for some time when the Divisional Congress placed arrangements in my mind and things began to take shape. The tour was a great success and was a great success. Ensign Merritt, who ranged a "send-off" for the band on Thursday night. The Commander presided. The crowd present gave a great cheer for the boys and their interest by the nearly forty dollars towards the expenses of the tour.

We left Winnipeg on the morning, the party consisted of Bandmaster Dancy, Percy Black, twenty-five Band Boys, myself—all in full uniform, leaving for a time of much interest and enjoyment. On arrival at Portage la Prairie, Ensign Peirce, who was in the Citadel by the main entrance, the way, I have not the main thoroughfare in the city of Canada to equal the Portage.

On Saturday afternoon, the band played and sang for nearly an hour to the inmates of the lunatic asylums. Their efforts were appreciated by the inmates. At night we conducted the boys on the main street, and close of one of these, an old man in the person of God Gledhill, who was the first to see the cream parlor for a boy's band, of course, the boys did not mind urging.

On Sunday morning, at 6 o'clock we journeyed to the High School, and for nearly a crowd of over a hundred intelligent lads sat in the listened to our service. In contrast it was to see the uniforms playing the instruments to the glory of God. Other lads who, for various reasons, had been placed in the correction and training. Sergeant Black, who was assigned to the jail and the service there.

All the meetings of the band were conducted under the leadership of extreme heat. A large was present on Monday evening and Mrs. Peirce conducted an outing for the Boys' Junior Corps at Portage la Prairie, which was a pleasant gathering.

On Tuesday morning, Carberry, where we were Brother Russell. Following arrangements were made. The Corps has been closed for years, but Brother Russell, a faithful Soldier of the Salvation Army. His interest in the hall is felt for good. The Hall was the Rev. Mr. Connolly, which the Rev. Mr. Connolly. The people treated us very well. (To be continued)
